Dedication

The hopes of the future brighten as we cast our eyes upon the citizens of tomorrow. They leave their high school, yet lingering are the memories of being depended on, of being looked up to by underclassmen, and of knowing they have fulfilled what is expected of them to their utmost abilities.

Those who will excel in their work and set the wheels of progress in motion for the future, are our seniors of today. In gratitude and appreciation, we dedicate this 1960 Tiger to all seniors, the leaders of tomorrow.

Superintendent's Message

MR. WILLIAM BECK

Quite often when we live, study and work in the same old community for a long period of time, we come to take it for granted; a case of "can't see the forest for the trees." It has been my privilege to see our schools and community from a fresh perspective.

I feel we may all profit from a new look at our clear, sunny skies, our fertile land, prosperous farms, our attractive, comfortable town and the friendly, hospitable people of our community. We are blessed with fine schools, exceptional faculties and high academic standards.

It is, indeed, a pleasure and a privilege to be a part of the Stanfield community.

Mrs. Melvin Krause headed Parent-Teachers Association - played heavy role in furthering relations.

Our Casual Teachers

As we all know, teachers are usually trying to give the best impressions and keep on their best behavior. They have been known to slip, however, and the camera bugs of S.H.S. just happened to be on time.

The pictures are quite humorous, and we are sure that the teachers will be a little embarrassed about them. We think they will probably laugh, too, though, as they are all good sports.

"I'm a baby bird. What are you?"

"Gee, this has been a good day."

"We the teachers have noticed that the rules need a little going over."

The night of Homecoming started out with a clanging of cans as the noise parade wound its way to the game. The crisp air enticed the crowd as the Stanfield Tigers and the Umatilla Vikings battled forces. The grueling game was highlighted by the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Pat Brown. A successful and well-planned dance ended the activity packed evening. AND YOU WERE THERE . . .

A blazing bonfire and four very happy candidates started homecoming activities with excited anticipation.

During the past year the student council has sponsored and participated in many activities. The carnival was the first event to be staged by the council. Dick McKague was chairman of the event with various members of the student body taking charge of the booths.

As the year progressed, a need arose for a drivers' safety campaign. The school was blanketed with a series of posters depicting the dangers of poor driving. After interest in safe driving had been aroused, a panel discussion was held. Much lively comment followed.

Upon the arrival of Christmas season the council sponsored a Christmas party. Skits were given, songs were sung, refreshments were eaten and the students left happily.

The student council is the governing body of students. It is made up of the student body officers and class representatives. All student affairs are directed through this body.

Thespians Complete

Ambitious Thespians collaborated in repairing flats for the coming play. After the flats were covered with stretched material and bent nails, they were painted light green. Besides green flats, there were green shoes, green hair, and green smiles. At the left, the officers combine efforts to cover around the windows.

G.A.A. Provided Sports Activities for Girls

The Girls' Athletic Association was organized for those girls interested in athletics of any sort. To join this club a girl must earn and maintain a certain amount of points each year. These points are earned by participating on the volleyball, basketball, or tennis team, attending G. A. A. activities, and by participating in the several indoor and outdoor activities. The group's advisor was Mrs. Dorothy Kyle.

G.A.A. ACTIVITIES

The girls belonging to the Girls' Athletic Association were active in several different activities.

Some of these activities were skating, swimming, bowling, a slumber (?) party, sponsoring a mixer, picnicking, and bike riding.

Several G.A.A. girls attended an outing held at Hat Rock. This was one day that all the girls forgot about their diets!

STANFIELD

Portland Provided Adventure and Intrigue for Seniors

Anything but sleepy-eyed seniors left for Portland that dreary morning at 4 o'clock. A lively bus trip, a stop at the Grotto, a visit to the zoo, and the docks filled the morning and part of the afternoon. Free time in the afternoon found seniors into anything and everything. The day was climaxed by seeing the show "Ben-Hur" and then everybody prepared for the trip home. After having arrived home, breakfast was served at Hat Rock. The rest of the day saw seniors asleep in class - all to end a perfect sneak.

Senior Breakfast Enjoyed by All as Memories Were Renewed

Seniors enjoyed a hearty breakfast.

Mothers relaxed and ate after preparing breakfast.

A Time for Tears, a Time for Joy . . . Graduation Day

Twelve years came to a climax as twenty-three robed seniors marched down the aisle and out into the future with the thought in mind to LIVE TO LEARN AND LEARN TO LIVE.
